Cisco Webex Calling by AVI-SPL

Work happens anywhere at any time. That's why you need an agile solution that empowers your people to quickly connect and collaborate, no matter where they are or when they are working.

With Cisco Webex Calling, you'll have global reach without the cost or complexity of an on-premises infrastructure.

Benefits of Cisco Webex Calling

Cisco Webex gives you a seamless collaboration experience. Your teams will appreciate its exceptional performance as it combines calling, messaging, meetings, and contact-center services on a single platform with one easy-to-use and secure app.

Cisco Webex Calling delivers the value and features you demand:

- Enables large voice deployments with proven reliability

- Advanced integration capabilities use your current PBX and network carriers to connect on-premises and cloud users

- Encrypted secure calling with the best performance, availability, and scalability

- Seamless call hand-off between devices

- Global dial tone and number plans

- Mobility enabled E911 and global emergency services

And because Cisco Webex Calling is based in the cloud, its features are delivered faster without the need for maintenance windows or complex upgrades.

How We Bring Cisco Webex Calling Into Your Organization

Plan, Deploy, Operate is AVI-SPL's proven framework for reliably delivering and supporting your Cisco Webex Calling experience. Our depth of knowledge and commitment to the highest quality services are reflected in each phase of this process:

- Plan: We identify your operational and network requirements, assess security and readiness, and co-develop your solution to ensure it meets your goals for enterprise-wide communication. We'll help you migrate to Cisco Webex Calling at your own pace.

- Deploy: During this stage, we install and commission your Cisco Webex Calling environment, deliver user devices such as phones and headsets, and actively manage the migration of users from legacy calling platforms

- Operate: We deliver fit-for-purpose management of your cloud environment to ensure its integrity. Our team will also provide the actionable analytics and data that give you essential insight into your Cisco Webex Calling performance KPIs.
