Enterprise Room Connector

A fully integrated multi vendor platform for interoperability, meetings, modern infrastructure replacement and collaboration.

Enterprise Room Connector (ERC) provides everything you need to connect everyone regardless of the collaboration platform and conferencing systems in use, for internal and external participants. Update existing video conferencing infrastructure with a modern SaaS or on-prem software platform. Simply meet with anyone inside and outside your organization.

Everything's included

A secure video conferencing infrastructure platform provides encrypted connections between people and devices at unlimited scale and flexibility. All in a single license.

Always up to date

Constantly adding new capabilities and features. Even when you use Pexip on-premises, you benefit from constant updates with the same capabilities: Users and admins always have the latest experience at their fingertips.

Everyone's invited

No matter what meeting you need to join, or how you want to join it, ERC's got you covered. Join any meeting with a single touch of a button. Across Webex, Microsoft Teams, Google Meet, Zoom, or whatever else.

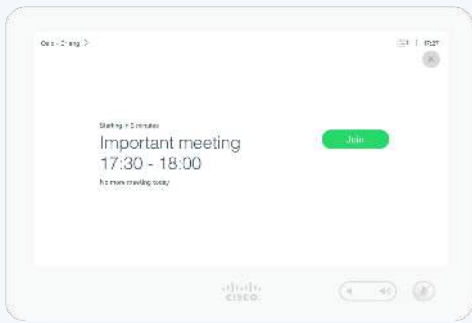

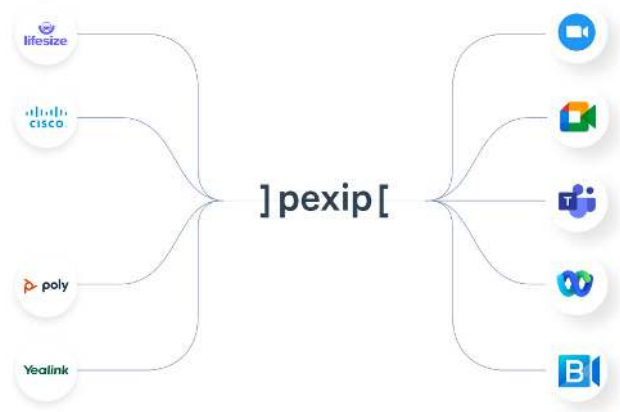

You're in control

Compliance and privacy is the name of the game. Nobody can see who meets who, or when – apart from you. Choose secure cloud for simplicity, deploy on-premises, or in a private cloud. The choice is yours. As is the data.

Any video system. Any meeting platform.

Bridge the gaps between modern video meeting platforms and existing meeting room devices.

Make hosting and joining video meetings a stress-free experience with Pexip Enterprise Room Connector (ERC).

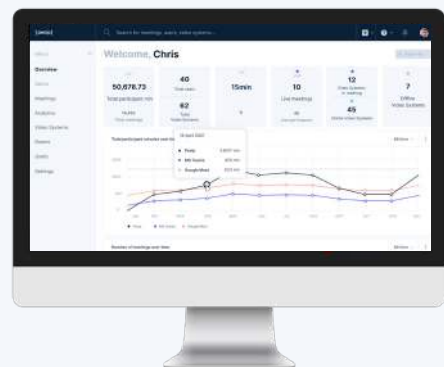

Easy to join

Native experience

Connect everywhere

Easy to manage

A simpler way to join meetings from multiple platforms

Pexip video conferencing infrastructure is essential for organizations that need to collaborate and communicate effectively in today's global and distributed business environment. Pexip provides customers with infrastructure and user simplicity – all in one licence.

Key capabilities

Multi vendor interoperability

Users schedule their meetings in google calendar, as usual. When it's time for the meeting, invitees press the join button from their video endpoint to join the meeting. That's it.

Deployment flexibility

The ability to deploy according to your specific needs such as self-hosted on prem or private cloud, or via a chosen public cloud offering.

Scalability

The ability to expand the infrastructure to accommodate a growing number of users and devices, without sacrificing performance or quality.
