

Hallstar

Situation and Solution

Hallstar, a global specialty chemistry company, prides themselves on the use of their technical expertise and knowledge to improve products and profitability for customers. When searching for a new partner to provide AV conferencing systems in their new office, Hallstar turned to SKC Communications (now AVI-SPL) to create rooms and spaces that would work with both Microsoft Teams and Zoom.

- Conference rooms feature Samsung or Newline interactive displays with Crestron conferencing systems and a Huddly IQ camera.
- Audio processing and microphones are powered by Biamp technology.
